We are united in our diversity, Diversified in our unity; Giving and taking of one accord; Individuals in a word.

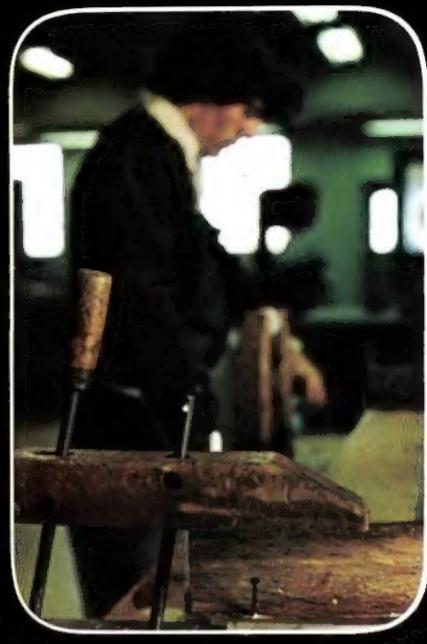

Often solitary, yet not alone, Part of a group, yet still only one . . .

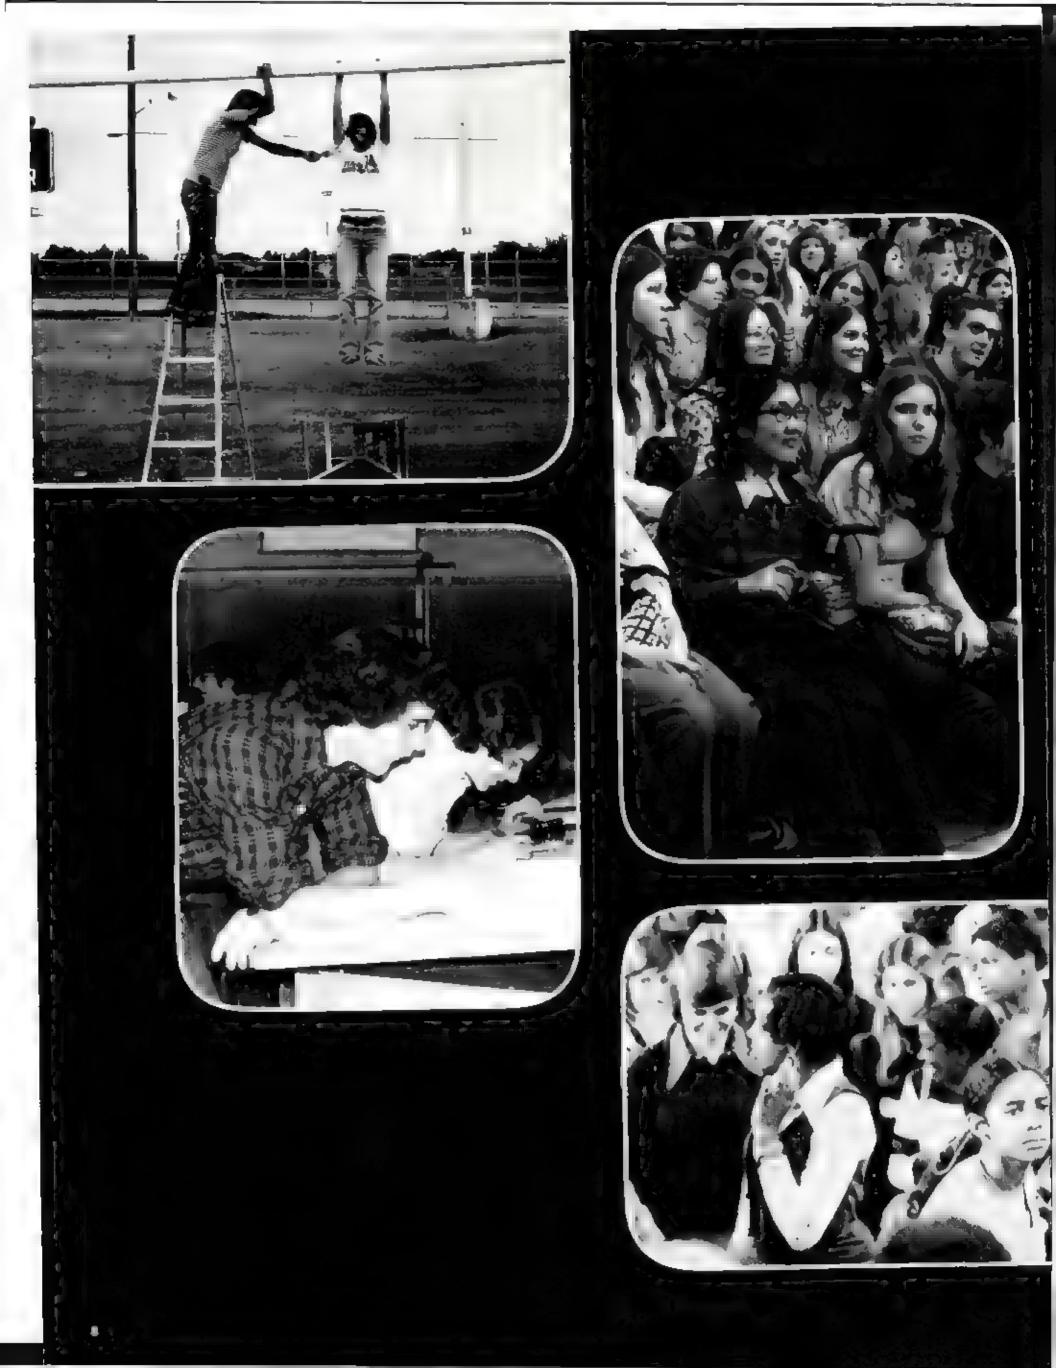

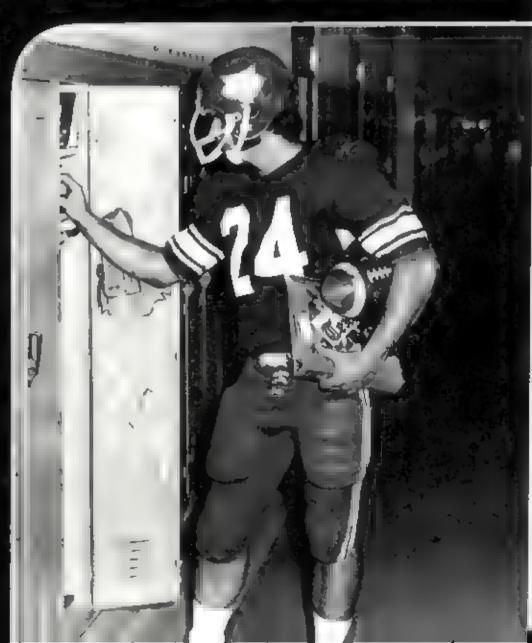

searching for something to call our own

dreaming of building a better land

. wanting to understand.

We are seeking new promises, hunting new dreams,
Searching through words that are not what they seem,
Turning to friendship when life gets us down,
Living on laughter, the heart-warming sound.

Throughout the heartbreaks of undeserved losses, the 1973 Wildcat squad suffered one pre-season and four district set-backs, along with five convincing wins to end the season with an even 5-5 mark. Hard work, determination, team effort, and desire were all evident in each game played, and while the record may not have indicated so, the Varsity squad could be proud of their efforts and accomplishments by knowing they did the best they could.

Kicking off the season, the 'Cats came up against a very strong W. T. White team and consequently accepted their first loss by a score of 21-7. The Wildcats took a 7-6 halftime lead, but a sagging defense permitted Longhorn touchdowns in the remaining two quarters. This game, as were all pre-season contests, acted primarify as a "learning experience" to get in practice before District Competition.

The second pre-season game brought in the Tyler Lee Raiders along with a Lake Highlands victory. Sporting a defense which held the Raiders to only 6 points, and on explosive offense which broke a 6-6 halftime tie, the Highlanders took the second-half lead with touchdowns by Phillip Gerber and Jim Liggit to come out on top by a tally of 19-6.

Perhaps the finest Varsity performance of the '73 season, the highly respected Highland Park fell in front of a home crowd in the second 'Cat victory. Excitement surged through the spectators as the apposing teams fought for the lead, but when the smoke lifted, the two Steve Box touchdowns coupled with a successful point after touchdown and a brilliant two point conversion pass from Buddy Maxfield to Phillip Gerber proved to be the winning combination with a 15-14 victory over the previously undefeated Scotties.

Homecoming sparked the charged-up Wildcats to a narrow 7-6 win over Paris, in the first district competition game. Hard running by workhorse Steve Box and Jim Liggit kept alive the first possession of the game, resulting in the only score by the 'Cats all night. As the night were on, it became evident that a defensive battle between the two teams would prove to decide the outcome. At the sound of the final gun; however, the defense had held strong, bottling up the Paris offense and holding onto a slim 7-6 lead.

When the Wildcats took their string of three victories to Sherman, the Bearcats abruptly took over and came up with a 12-7 rout over the injured Lake Highlands team. After the loss, Richardson appeared as the next formidable opponent and proved their mettle as the traditional rival threw up a defense which kept the helpless Wildcats scoreless in a 17-0 shut-out. One week later, a Plano homecoming night proved to be the third defeat in a row by a score of 28-7, knocking the Wildcats out of district competition for first place, and dealing the fourth loss of the season.

The remaining three games seemed anticlimatic. With no chance for a standing in district, the 'Cats managed to hold Denison pointless with a 14-0 victory, suffer their second shut-out in the hands of Greenville and wrap-up the season on an upnote by overcoming the Pearce Mustangs 31-8.

Combining a strong defense with an explosive offense which rolled up an amazing 285 points in 10 games, the Junior Varsity team took command of their district apponents and found themselves in the number one spotlight. Even with the loss of several key members to the Varsity team, the J-V managed to stay affoat sporting a 9-1 record. Beginning the season by knocking off W. T. White and South Garland, the 'Cats systematically defeated each team until running head-on into hard-hitting Richardson. The Eagles kept Lake Highlands scoreless until late in the first half when they scored their only touchdown, saving a shut-out. The sole defeat did not keep their enthusiasm down, and the Junior Varsity wrapped up the rest of the season by overcoming the remaining four contenders The last game of the season showed the true caliber of the defensive squad, as the only touchdown resulted from a fierce rush of the front line, which blocked a Pearce punt. This enabled Alan Nolan to pick up the free ball and score the final T.D. of the year. With this last victory, the Junior Varsity sewed-up the district title and presented Coach Jim Caldwell and Lake Highlands High School with the first place trophy.

Lake Highlands B-Team, under the capable leadership of coaches Bill Gomer and Jerry Wells, streaked over all contenders in the district race to capture the first place crown. The Sophomore team started the season with three shut-outs before letting up and allowing Paris 12 points, still a losing margin. After rolling over Sherman, the only game keeping the team from a perfect season was the 6-6 tie with Richardson. The minor setback did not phase the B-Team as they played their finest game against Greenville, presenting them with their first loss since eighth grade. The remaining team proved to be no obstacle as the B-Team soundly put the Mustangs to rest in a 48-6 bruising and proudly brought home the district title.

Beginning the 73-74 basketball season under the guidance of Coach Jerry Wode, the Wildcats challenged their pre-season competition in tournaments such as the Dr. Pepper Tournament and the Arlington Classic, gaining much needed practice for the season ahead. Starting district competition with a convincing 75-64 win over Paris, the Roundballers lost their next two against Sherman and Richardson before starting their five game winning streak by defeating Plano, Denison, Greenville, Pearce and Paris. During this streak, three of the five games were decided by three or less points providing for some very exciting action. But as the season were on, the Cats seemed to wear out, dropping five out of their remaining six games to even their record at 7-7 and losing sight of any playoff hopes which seemed so close at mid-season.

The 73-74 Wildcat Wrestling feam under the supervision of Coach Robert Harris, produced the team's finest record by remaining undefeated throughout the dual meet season. High points of the season included the 66-0 shutout of Van Alstine and the come from behind tie against R. L. Turner which enabled LH to claim possession of the District title. Along with the regular dual meets, the Wrestlers participated in four tournaments, the LH Invitational, R. L. Turner Tournament, Houston Spring High Tournament, and the Texas North Central Wrestling Conference in which they placed 2nd, 3rd, 1st, and 3rd respectively.

After previous years of being an after school recreational organization, the team, coached by Robert O. Harris, proved its merit throughout the season by devoting all of its effort and determination to each game played. One of the season's highlights came when halfback Peter Balda was named All Conference, bringing the finest recognition to Lake Highlands and its soccer squad.

Wildcats capture second place

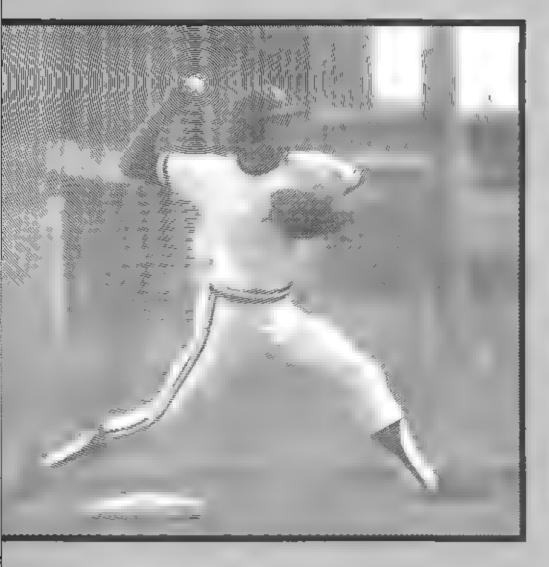

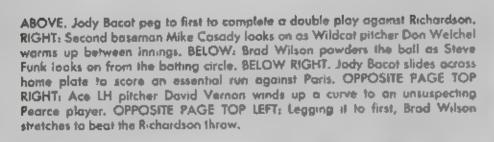

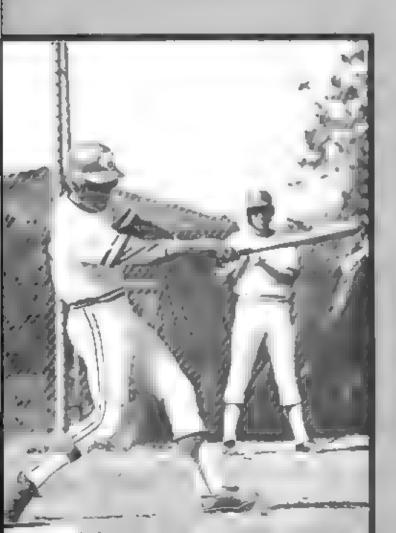

The Wildcat baseball team, under Coach Joy Higgins, surprised their competition by placing a sole second place in the tough district race. Sporting a season record of 9-4-0, the hardballers outscored their competition's best by gaining 56 points against the opponent's 51, but ran into hard luck at midseason dropping two crucial games, to Pearce and Paris. Third baseman Mike Stewart scored the most runs for the Cats with a tally of 22 while setting the record of most stolen bases by ripping the opposition for 14 during district play. Hurler David Vernon with a season's record of 7-1 took the best winning percentage with a .875 and an amazingly low ERA of 1.35. Concluding the season, the Wildcat team voted Jody Bacot as the Most Valuable Player for his .341 batting average.

Golf team places third at district

Making exceptional showings at their numerous tournaments, the Lake Highlands Golf Team undoubtedly had their best season. With team captains Randy Ford, Bob Neal, and David Foster leading the way, the golfers placed third in district competition.

On February 22 in Fort Worth, the Wildcat Golfers placed third out of 66 teams from the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

At Irving, March 12, the team moved up to first out of 23 rivals. Senior Randy Ford's tie with an opponent from Tyler Lee resulted in a "sudden death" playoff, and proved Randy the victor with a birdie on the second hole.

The golf team then proceeded to Tyler on March 18, where they placed third out of 22 teams. From Tyler, the Eastern Hills Tourney drew the attention of the Cats while they drew the attention of the crowd, placing seventh out of another 22 teams.

Divers capture third in regionals

The LHHS 73-74 swim team climaxed their best year with a total of seventeen new girls' records and two new boys' records. Maureen Hogan, Erin McGinnis, Francis Shushok, and Kathy Koons set the girls' records while Bill Goad claimed fastest time for the boys. (ABOVE RIGHT) At the March 1-2 Regional meet at TCU the girls' and boys' teams placed 8th and 10th respectively out of 32 teams with Kathy setting a record time and qualifying for the 500 yard freestyle competition. Nineteen out of twenty-one participants achieved or surpassed their life-time best, which resulted in a total of 19 new school records.

This year's swim team was the best Lake Highlands has ever put together, and with only two graduating seniors, the team planned to use this year's experience to build the swimming team into an even better group for the 74-75 season.

Hours of practice and drill led the three skilled students, known as the LHHS Diving Team, to third place at the regional meet at TCU. The acrobatic performers, Emily Caldwell, Don Carrell, and Jeff Dannemiller, proved that how one enters the water in a dive has as much to do with point capturing in swim meets as the actual races.

Racketeers yield respectable year

Lake Highlands' tennis team, trained by Coach Ronny Hardin, competed in such tennis tournaments as the Mesquite Invitational, where they placed second, and the district play-off in which they took a well deserved third place from fierce competition. When the weather turned sour, the team turned indoors to sell posters which raised $296 for their automatic serving machine. Student Council President, Bob Collaway happily presents a plaque to Principal A. M. Anderson during Teacher Appreciation Week.

"Los gates montaneses," the Wildcats, or in more common terms, the Spanish Club, opened the year with a game party where "Monopoly" proved to be a favorite. The winter season saw the club members enjoying a Christmas party with music, games, and food. Warmer weather brought a picnic and a treasure hunt. Selected students traveled to the Pan American Student Forum Convention in San Antonio. Recognizing its officers and senior members, the club ended the year with its annual Awards Banquet. Officers were: President, Terry Lyon, Vice-President, Sara Avant; Secretary, Robin Rowan, Treasurer, Jane Isdale; Historian, Holly Johnson; Reporter, Keith Kirschbraum, PSAF Reporter, Mark Davis, and PSAF District Reporter, Blake McCrary. Mrs. Betty Montgomery sponsored the club. The main objective of the organization was to practice the Spanish language and familiarize the students with the history, costumes, and literature of the Spanish speaking people, thus strengthening the friandship between these people and the members.

"Los gatos montaneses," the Wildcats, si quiere "the Spanish Club," empezó el año con una fiesta de juegos. La monopolia fue el favorito — sin duda. En la estación del invierno el club gozó una fiesta de Navidad, con musica, juegos, y comida. Los dias mas calientes trajeron una merienda y una caza por un tesoro. Los estudiantes eligidos viajaron al San Antonio para participar en el "Pan American Student Forum Convention," Para honrar a los oficialas y los miembros del club que se graduaron, el año termino con un banquete. Los oficiales eran Terry Lyon, Presidente: Sara Avant, el segundo Presidente: Robin Rowan, Secretaria; Jane Isdale, Tesorera; Hally Johnson, Historiadora; y los Periodistas; Mark Davis y Keith Kırschbraun. Blake McCrary era oficial del distrito de PASF. La Senora Betty Montgomery era la Patrona del club.

El objeto principal del club as tratar de infersar a los estudiantes en las costumbres de los personas que viven en los países de habla espanol.

Spanish Club provides entertainment, education

Romanism fascinates Latin Club

With hopes of trying to gain a more thorough knowledge of Roman civilization and culture, the Latin Club celebrated many group events. Starting in the foll, they had an Olympic Picnic with food and games. At Christmas time came the customary "Saturnalia." The feast was held in the student center, where food, gifts, games and caroling provided the entertainment.

Officers, Kevin May, President; Dennis Bardon, Vice-President; Candy Poland, Secretary; Barbara Edwards, Treasurer; Vicki Mullins, Historian; Wanda English, Reporter; and Jeff Dulcie and Chuck Fueur, Slave Representatives; attended a Junior Classical League area workshop during October. Other members along with the officers and sponsor Mrs. Gloria Hare, were present at a Junior Classical League State Convention in Austin, during March. The Club raised money for the trip by selling peanut candy and mints.

Again following tradition the Latin Club held the Roman Banquet the last of April at the Holiday Inn.

All members of the Club must have been taking Latin or have had one year of the language. The club itself helped its members to understand better the practical and cultural value of Latin. The group also tried to interest others in the study of the Latin language.

Deutsche Verein holds Oktoberfest

Combining food, fun, and the German language proved to be the livelihood of Deutsche Verein, the German Club. Out of the Wednesday evening meetings, arose such activities as an ice cream party and a lake barbecue. A progressive and cultural dinner was enjoyed at three houses with an appetizer, a famous German main course, and a traditional dessert. The whole club joined in the baking or contributed to the treasury. During the holidays, the club, composed of some 40 members and headed by Miss Ruth Thompson sang Christmas carols in German with the French Club, The group challenged its members classroom learning through a scavenger hunt in which all the clues were written in German. The Texas Association of German Students, a German symposium held at University of Texas at Arlington, tested student's proficiency in German grammar and pronunciation. Participants were given tests on the grammarical structure of the language and read selected passages in Germon for awards. The Oktoberfest, a German holiday glorifying the fall harvest, was celebrated with sausages and other foods, and a luncheon was held at a Germon restaurant in the spring. Officers were: President, Peggy Wittie: Vice-President, Karin Freeman; Secretary-Treasurer, Bernard Maag; and Reporter-Historian, Greg Clasen.

French students study culture

An interest in French culture was the unifying concern for Les Heureux, "The Happy Ones." Members enjoyed such annual events as an ice cream party, a fondue party, ice and roller skating, picnics and a bicycle ride. At Christmas, the club sang French carols and had a scavenger hunt with clues in French, Advisor Miss From Maples added a visit to the State Fair Music Hall to see the opera, "Andrea Chenier" and a trip to the Fine Arts Museum to view the pointings and sculpture of Degas. In March, the group participated in the Spring Olympics, competing in sports and creating a display on the French people. The National French Contest was on the colendar as well as a visit to Kimball Art Museum in Fort Worth to view a Russian collection of French Impressionist paintings. Funds from the annual bake sale featuring French delicacies defrayed the cost of the banquet at a French restaurant. Officers were: President, Carol Wilson; Vice-President, Yvonne Crowe; Secretary-Treasurer, Diana Childress; and Historian-Reporter, Sharon Riggs.

Directories finance foreign students

For students with international interests, the American Field Service offered the lure of foreign lands. With the support from the adult chapter of AFS, the organization sponsored Japanese foreign exchange student, Madoka Ito through a year at Lake Highlands, The club raised money by selling student directories, and hosting the annual AFS Girl's Olympics in March, which featured Madoka playing pingpong. The group's social calendar included a Christmas party, where Madaka received presents from the AFS members. Leading the club this year was President, Cary Farr; with support from Vice-President, Doug Zimmerman; Secretary, Jeannie Arnold; Treasurer, Greg Young; and Historian, Denise Garrett. The club was sponsored by Mrs. Muriel Oliver and Mrs. Dot Biggs, Madoka stayed with the Boyers during her visit in America. However, AFS members tried to make her feel a more a part of LH by individually showing her the sights of Dallas. By this method, Madoka became acquainted with more students and made many more friends. AFS also helped sponsor two summer exchange students from Lake Highlands, Jay Sloat and Mitchell Fuller.

Opportunities open through DECA

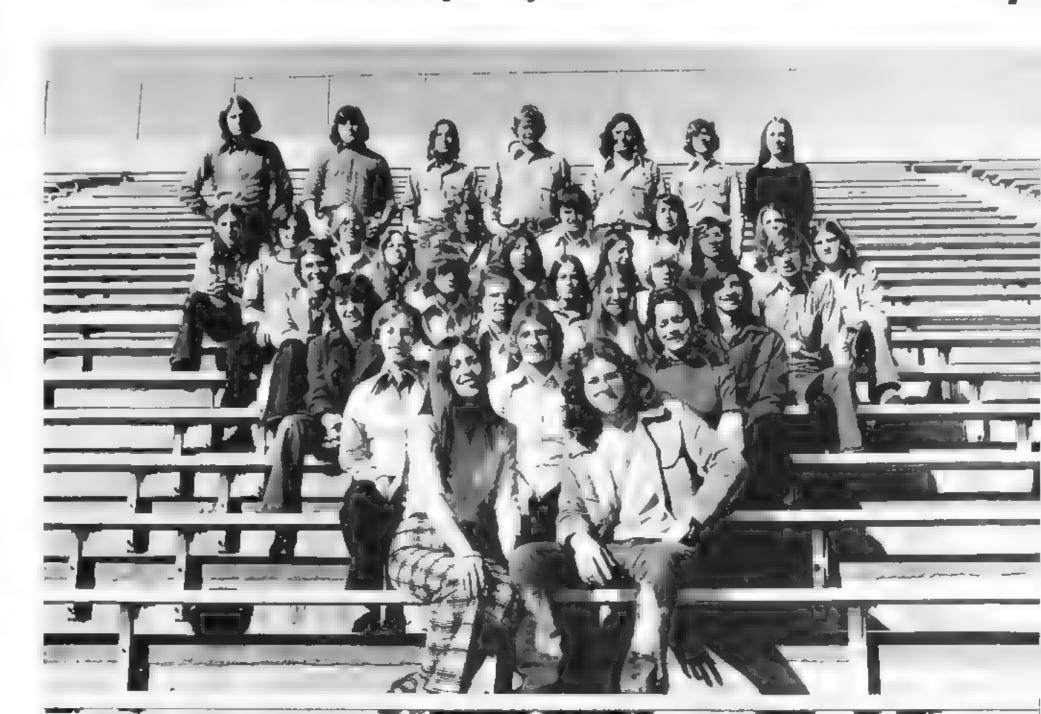

In an effort to give the high school student a view of the business world, DECA, Distributive Education Clubs of America, gave students on-the-job training in retailing, stocking, and display. 104 students attended an average of three to four periods daily including their Distributive Education class, then reported to their various training stations, Sponsor Mrs. Maryette Griffin aided the students in job placement in such areas as sales, checking, and banking. Officer elections were held at a "Get Acquainted Party" in September and the sale of DECA calendars gave a boost to the treasury. One activity which accupied a major part of club time was area, state, and national competition in the aspects of business administration. Competition began locally in the classrooms. The club attended the Area Contest at Kilgore Jr. College in February, and the State Leadership Conference in March. DECA also held its fifth annual Employer-Employee banquet. Officers were: President, Andy Stepchinski; Vice President, Kim Nelson; Secretary, Kim Wright; Treasurer, Janet Yount; Reporter, Rex Allen; Historian, Dodie Metcalf; and Parliamentarian, Jann Shaw.

Industrial Cooperative Training students gained additional knowledge of their selected trades through VICA, Vocational Industrial Clubs of America. The group led by Mr. Burle Richardson, participated in area contests proving their proficiencies in various vocational skills. The club competed and heard speakers at the District VICA Officer Leadership Conference in Duncanville, Texas, in October, Also included for contest work was a trip to Skyline High School, Members who won at Skyline went on to state competition. At contests, members performed in extemporaneous speaking or erected a display illustrating some aspect of their particular job skills. Another event was Skill Speed in which a student worked with a professional in his field performing a task during a prescribed time limit. Members topped the year off with an Employer-Employee banquet. Officers were: President, first semester - Terre Polsgrove, second semester - Phil Mitchell; Vice-President, Madelyn Owens; Secretary, Sandra Wilson; and Treasurer, Gordon Sears. Others were: Reporter, Jill Foote; Parliamentarian, Kathleen Boyle; and Sergeant-at-Arms, Marty Andrews.

VICA prepares for leadership

OEA mixes business, pleasure

Vocational Office of Education students found the educational part of their job training in OEA, the Office Education Association, Sponsor Mr. Paul Sellers helped students to find an interest in office work through their selected accupations. The average student attended four periods daily, including the VOE class where they were taught the operation of office machines. Positions held were general office clerk, mail clerk, bank employee, office machines operator, receptionist, file clerk, secretary-stenographer, and bookkeeper. A major part of the club's curriculum was the competition at Area, State, and National OEA Youth Leadership Conferences. The club attended the Area Conference in March at the Baker Hotel in Dallas. There, individual events were entered such as job application, business spelling, business math, and student job manual. Athletes peddle school posters

The drudgery of daily calisthenics and constant drills was brightened for many Wildcat athletes, as they studied their activities from a religious viewpoint in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. The FCA, co-sponsored by Mr. Bill Garner and Mr. Jerry Wells, enjoyed listening to personal testimonies from various guest speakers, as well as conversing among themselves about Christianity. The main money-making project was selling spirit posters to fellow students. The funds raised were used to send several club members to a summer conference. The remainder of the money was left in care of future clubs. The FCA officers, Mark Spradley, President; Bruce Dunlevie, Vice-President; Randy Ford, Secretary-Treasurer; and Buddy Maxfield, Program Chairman, attended a leadership convention at Texas Stadium during January. Dallas Cowboys Tom Landry, Roger Staubach, and Calvin Hill, spoke with the officers about Christianity in their lives.

Y-Teens mix social events, service

Under leadership of Robert Irish, President; Mike Jackson, Vice-President; James Fletcher, Secretary; and David Hunt, Treasurer, the club enjoyed numerous activities concerning natural sports.

The purpose of the club was to express the knowledge of wildlife in all aspects to the members. Members were properly taught hunting, fishing, different gun sports, and gun safety. Correct behavior and fellowship were exercised on all outings.

The Wildlife Club encouraged brotherhood and the working together for one final product, a oneness with nature. The club also promoted the recognition of the Wildlife organization by other members of the school.

SC serves school, community

Positivity is that constructive state of mind which instigates progress for the Student Council. With this attitude, great strides are being made in all areas of school life, especially student government. The Student Council has worked extremely hard to properly represent all of the students. Their policy is to urge the students to participate in all important decisions. Under the banner of a new constitution, the SC has acted as the central body for school-wide projects. Such activities included Homecoming with a Western Day theme, the Rhodes tutoring project, Thanksgiving baskets, and Favorite's Ball, held at the Fairmont Hotel. The council also sought to include the entire LH community as it sponsored a successful six week long paper drive, directing the proceeds toward Favorite's Ball, With Miss Nell Jennings as sponsor, the group of students ranging from sophomores to seniors continued to provide both pupils and faculty with services from the SC Bookstore, which supplied everything from paperback books to fresh doughnuts daily. The 1973-74 Student Council, under the leadership of President, Bob Calloway; Vice-President, James Johnson; Secretary, Lisa Nichols; Treasurer, Marla Klein; and Historian, Amy Harrell, provided another successful year for Lake Highlands High School.

The honor students were led by President, Bruce Proctor; Vice-President, Cindy Bilton; Secretary, Brenda Barker; Treasurer, Sara Avant; and Reporter, Cynthia Kimler, with advisor, Mrs. Jane Mitchell,

Members of the club were required to have completed four semesters of college preparatory mathematics, and in addition have completed or be enrolled in the fifth semester. The students must also have had and maintained an 88 average in all previous math courses. However, a student might have become an associate member without the required mathematics if he or she was recommended by a mathematics teacher. A major project of the group was the hosting of Career Night with the Junior Class in February. This educational program was organized much like College Night and consisted of speakers from different occupations. These speakers lectured on such topics as the length of their workday, home preparation, skill requirements, and various other facets of their field. During the evening, students had a choice of attending three separate lectures dealing with such occupations as banker, beautician, airline stewardess, photographer, architect, aviation pilot, and draftsman. Key Club aids March of Dimes

Under the leadership of Mr. Ed Zachary, sponsor; Kevin McGinnis, President; Mike Smith, Vice-President; Brent Waiscott, Secretary; and Mike Stewart, Treasurer, the Key Club worked on beautifying LH by painting the press box on the B-team field, and the goal posts of the Wildcat-Ram Stadium, early in the fall. Bellboys enliven football crowds

With a toll of triumph for every LH victory, the Bellboys marked a winning year of the Wildcat. The enthusiastic group, sponsored by Mr. Ed Zachary and the Key Club, escorted the two-wheeled bell to every football game. It was their job to ring the bell whenever the team needed approval. The boys also added spirit to the pep rollies, ringing the bell when appropriate. Untimely bell-ringing, such as sounding off on a major street in the middle of the night, led the seniors to an unexpected discussion with the police, on the topic of disturbing the peace.

Aside from adding diversion to pep rallies and games, the spirited four also raised the flag at all home games, helped in cleaning and painting the bell, and assisted wherever needed during the game.

Chosen on the basis of previous Key Club service, Kevin McGinnis, Steve Kinney, Brent Wainscott, and Steve Frazier were the 1973-74 Wildcat Bellboys. To be selected, they had to be a Key Club member in good standing, and have a hardworking, dedicated record with the organization.

Flaghangers drape opponents

With the official formation of the energetic dozen known as the Flaghangers, a new era in LH spirit began. Sponsored by Principal A. M. Anderson, the Flaghangers met on Thursday evenings before football games to create their masterpieces. The group would then travel to the opposing school to hang their home-made signs declaring Wildcat victory. While in action one night the boys were stopped by the Highland Park Police on suspicion of trying to break into the Scotties' high school.

The Flaghangers enlived pep rallies with a dummy dressed in uniform (the gray Flaghanger shirt, with a lettered belt, and blue jeans), hung over the center of the gym. The group also made a sign to hang in the gym to boost the faotball team's moral. Members of the enthusiastic group were Charles Avant, David Dacus, Richard Fleming, Glenn Garrett, Larry Hughey, Wally Hughey, Max Largent, Bob Neal, Bill Smith, Teddy Stone, Kim Terrell, and John Wessels.

The flaghanger organization gave more guys a chance to become involved in the spirit project at Lake Highlands; thus providing added enthusiasm throughout the football season.

Other plays produced consisted of a touring children's show, "The Clown Who Ran Away," for area elementary schools, and a spring melodrama, "The Drunkard." The advanced drama students formed a repertory company which invited classes to view such plays as "Not Enough Rope" and "Antigone," among others. For his excellent character creations in the Lake Highlands production of "America Hurrahl", Bruce Pate was selected to appear in the Dallas Theater Center's production of the same name. The club hosted many noted speakers, including Ed Delatte, managing director of Dallas Repertory Theater, and Dejah Moore, who appeared in the motion picture, "Paper Moon." The club attended area speech contests and community plays and toured theaters during the year. Honor pledges were selected from apprentice members and were honored at a special party. At the closing of the year, members were inducted into the National Thesplan Society, Vice-President Bruce Pate succeeded President Delia Pace upon her graduation. Other positions were: Secretary, Robin Schlicter; Treasurer, Sherri Turner: Historian, Bobby Quinten; Publicity Chairman, Larry Adams; and Program Chairmen, Kerry Cole and Amy Harrell.

A collection of witticisms, satire, and sentimentality, the Senior "Pub" was an accumulation of the humor of the Class of '74. As deadlines drew nearer, the staff members rushed to prepare the copy, photographs, and various other components that made up the "Pub." Seniors were asked to contribute material for the various categories based on their own experiences. Mrs. Mary Ellen Fuquay advised the staff at their after school meetings and generally supervised the assembling of the publication. In addition to the familiar categories of "You know you're a senior when" and "Senior Opposites," there were a number of innovative short stories such as "Diary of a Lunch Lady" and "Ye Olde Pub." Baby pictures were gathered as well as senior resemblances to movie stars.

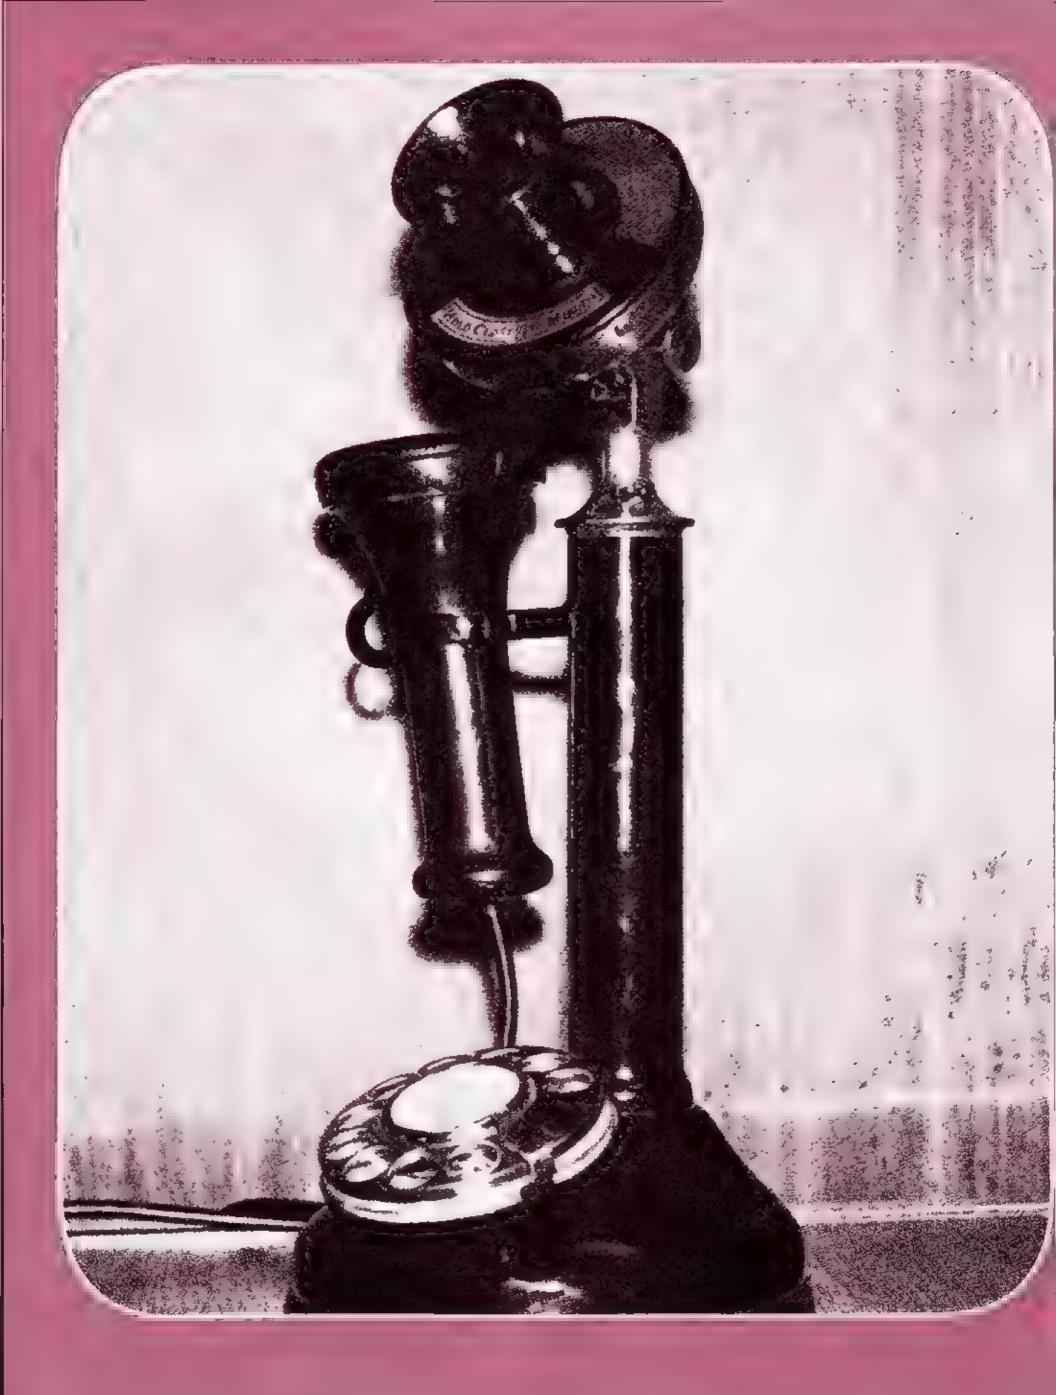

Quill & Scroll honors journalists

Quill and Scroll, an honorary journalism society, was sponsored by Mrs. Linda McCreight, Juniors and seniors, in order to be eligible, must have taken a year of journalism and been in the upper third of their graduating class. Eligible students were honored for their superior work in the field of journalism or school publications. For their initiation dinner, members saw Van Johnson in "Boeing, Boeing" at the Country Dinner Playhouse. The national society was organized on April 10, 1926, by a group of high school advisors for the purpose of encouraging and rewarding individuals in the field of journalism. Since its origin, Quill and Scroll has granted charters to more than 10,000 high schools, and the club has an estimated one million "alumni" in all walks of life. Along with activities promoting high school journalism, the Quill and Scroll Foundation conducts a continuing research program in the areas of high school journalism and high school publications; grants ten scholarships of $500 each to students who plan to major in journalism in college; and publishes several pamphlets. Officers were: President, Dodí Keith; Vice-President, Deborah Krogh; Secretary, Lisa Risener; Treasurer, Linda McClung.
